Tradition: Camp was established in 1925 to help campers grow in courage, build resilience and see the natural world and fellow friends with caring eyes. Many original traditions remain since the founding of camp and make Adirondack Woodcraft Camps fun and unique.

Trips: “Woodcraft” means the art of living in the wilderness. Every camper looks forward to their 1-3 night wilderness trip with their cabin group. The length and challenge of the trip grows with the campers’ age and experience. Campers strengthen their friendships and become confident and independent explorers during their incredible adventure together.

Family Owned & Directed

Doug & Christina Bartlett live at camp year round with their three children. They each have 20 plus years of experience operating and directing camps. Doug holds a degree in Recreation Management and is a volunteer firefighter. Christina holds a M.S. in Counseling Psychology and is a certified guidance counselor. Doug & Christina are energetic, loving camp directors who work together with their staff to create a safe and caring camp community every day. They are always available to speak to you about your camper’s experience!

“Woodcraft helped shape me into the man I am today. A person thinking about attending Woodcraft can be guaranteed a second family, memories that will last a lifetime, and so many more invaluable experiences... “ — Michael Romano

"My daughter went to this camp for the first time this summer and absolutely loved it. She will definitely be going back next summer. The camp directors Christina and Doug Bartlett never tire in their efforts to make the campers happy and safe! My daughter bonded with her cabin friends and her counselors very quickly. When I picked her up after her 2 week Rookie program she was in tears - not wanting to leave her new friends. I am so happy that she found someplace where she felt so comfortable. She raves about her experiences such as camping out, earning badges and the water front activities but also loved the food. It is a well rounded positive experience for kids. We love Woodcraft!" --Laura Coen

“Just got back from a weekend of touring the camp and meeting the staff. Wonderful camp in a beautiful setting. The staff is competent, knowledgeable and dedicated. Everything a summer camp should be.” — David Wood
